In a post-human world now being reshaped by advanced robots, human warriors must be brought back prematurely to keep the Humachinas from making the world permanently uninhabitable.

The year is 2033 and the planet is no longer habitable. Earth is quickly being decimated by sporadic asteroid storms and the overgrowth of human population. In response, the Long Sleep program has been developed under the United Nations' "Plan A," in which all humans are Flashed-In to servers that store their human data for an indefinite period of time--until the Earth is deemed habitable again.

YULI VALERY, a handsome, rugged Seattle police officer in his mid-30's, and PENNY FLOW, beautiful, brilliant Chinese-American scientist behind the creation of the Long Sleep are the year's definition of a power couple. While Yuli works to diffuse tension in a world falling deeper into chaotic madness each day, Penny works tirelessly to Flash-In the seemingly endless line of people filing their way into her SOMNIUM facility.

Suddenly renegade operatives invade the Flash-In facility, hell-bent on Flashing-In a more selective choice of humans by forcefully uploading a Modified Plan A into Somnium. Yuli is called to the scene and finds himself going head to head with RAY THE BLACK, ruthless leader of the operatives. Without warning a terrible asteroid storm begins to rain down, triggering Somnium's emergency Mass-Flash-In reaction, immediately Flashing-In everyone in the vicinity.

Three hundred years later, 2333, the world is inhabited solely by HUMACHINAS, incredibly advanced, evolving humanoid robots developed by advanced servers, like Somnium. Yuli's consciousness slowly comes to as he is ReProducted into a brand new body made solely for him in his likeness. He's greeted by MINERVA, a complex Humachina, who looks strikingly like Penny, and is his protector and navigator in his new mission to take down the server proxy GAIORIUM now infected by the Plan B virus, which is deleting millions of humans from its database in an attempt to eradicate the human race.

Upon learning the fate of the world, Yuli announces it's his sole personal mission to find Penny. But Somnium doesn't give him that option—warning that just as easily as it was able to ReProduct Yuli, it can deactivate him. So they make a deal: for every infected Legion of Gaiorium Yuli takes out, Somnium will ReProduct one human of Yuli's choice. Yuli is equipped with a power suit called a PURGE DEMON and together he and Minerva, who can defend but not attack, move out on their first mission.

Returning from having successfully taken out his first Legion, Yuli requests Somnium bring back Penny only to discover she isn't stored in the Somnium server—they aren't sure where she's stored. So Yuli instead works to bring back, one by one, a team of ReProducts that can continue to help him defeat the Legions and get closer to Gaiorium—and hopefully Penny.

Gaiorium learns Yuli has been ReProducted and ReProducts Ray the Black as its attack human to destroy Yuli and his crew. A colossal confrontation between men and machines leaves Gaiorium dismantled and Ray the Black incapacitated. Next Yuli and his team need to decipher whether or not Somnium is still running the correct program, Plan A, in which all humans will eventually be ReProducted.

But Somnium refuses to let them reboot its system, Yuli must link into the now-disabled Gaiorium server body and has the ultimate showdown with Somnium, server to server. What Yuli and his team discover about Somnium is shocking—and reveals that their efforts to restore Earth and the human race to what they once were is far from over.
